MECHANICS' FAIR. - Notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the weather and the many attractions elsewhere, there was a goodly number in attendance last night. To-night the colored folks take a peep at the curiosities, and we can confidently predict a jovial time.

Our enterprising tobacconists, Messrs. Mus selman & Co., make an attractive display to those who consume the weed. Their tobacco hereceived the highest praise on other occasions and we doubt not this is good.

Though we should prefer "a seat by the kitchen fire," the life seate of Mr. Thompson would undoubtedly do good service for a "man over-of our lady friends pronounce them charming. Mr. Wm. Paddon is the maker and exhibitor of that huge and those diminutive casks. As samples of cooperage they cannot well be ex-

Our sister city of Jeffersonville is represented by Messrs. Johnson & Poindexter, who contribute an assortment of tin and copper ware, stove furniture, &c. It is well made and evinces a good degree of mechanical skill. We lake to see depositors from abroad.

Modest in its appearance, vet inter scientific men engaged in railroad enterprises, is the model of Witmer's Railroad Bridge, exhibited by that accomplished engineer and draughtsman, Mr. Geo. H. Arms, who exhibits also a finely finished drawing of a locomotive engine, built at our locomotive works, as a specimen of mechanical drawing. We understand that Mr. A. will soon take charge of a class under the patronage of the Institute.

Our facetious townsmen, Messrs. Skene & Co., who "make light of curious things," are on hand as usual with samples of the best lard oil made in the West. So say those who have used it for burning or lubricating purposes. We learn that these are fair samples of their stock

Mr. C. J. Kent contributes a case of musical nstruments of rare finish and beauty. We doubt not that any young man of a melancholy turn of mind, and who understood the manipulations, could win the most hard hearted damse with the tones of that beautiful flute, if played wooingly under her window on some moonlight night-that is, if she happened to be at home.

Huber, Barrett, & Co .- This firm has a case of very costly china and glassware at the Mechanics' Institute, which reflects high credit on them. Their house is on Fourth street, between Market and Main.

Mr. B. F. Avery exhibits a machine for bending plow-handles. He is the inventor of it and has a patent for it. Mr. A. carries on a very xtensive plow factory in this city.

The large eagles carved in wood, which are distributed over the hall, were made by Mr. Michael Muckle. They are very artistically

Wax Flowers .- One of the most charming of our young belles graces the exhibition with two beautiful and very perfect bouquets of wax flowers. We have rarely seen more excellent counterfeit presentments than these bijoux exhibit. They are as exquisite as the hand that ned them. We hope that Miss Ella M. er's example will find many imitators in

[Forthe Louisville Journal.] OUR FATHERS AND THEIR SONS.

Their work was done; hero and patriot saw
The fair young flag of freedom far outspread;
Father and son rejoiced with grateful awe,
While gazing on the task work of the dead.
Their highest guerdon since the triumph's done,
The glorious knowledge—"Union, we are one!"

Beside the shouting waters of the sea, Among the vistas of the forest land,
Men pointed to that badge of liberty,
As formed their children round, an eager band.
"Your fathers bled and sied, but ye are free,
Preserve the gift—Union and liberty.

"What higher gift? What more sublime bequest? What name so glorious on the roll of fame? Hither all nations turn and call us blest, Secure from tyranny, unstained by shame; Thy father's hand that constellation placed, Central in heaven-let it not be disgraced!

Thus spoke the noble sire, thus heard the son; Bis cheek bright burning, and his eyeon fire, "Each blood bought star we do accept as one, The golden band of Union our desire; Children and children's children still shall say, That flag of concord, none shall tear away."

Gone is the hero of the battle gro und Gone are their sons of wisdom and of fame; Men have forgotten; some have boldly found Their tongues could whisper trait rous words of sham "Even though the Union bleeds, divide we must, Perish that banner-trail it in the dust."

And is this so? And is the birthright now
Less value than a mess of pottage found?
Can men supinely gaze with tranquil brow.
While freedom's temple trembles to the ground?
Once more revive, thou spirit of the brave,
Even from thine ashes send one spark to save!

Ye wake, ye gallant sons of gallant sires, Aiready has a hallowed influence woke The thrilling fervor of your youth's pure fires, And like the phonix into being broke. Divide and fall, this is the sure decree; Preserve the right—Union and liberty: LOUISVILLE, KY.

LATER FROM MEXICO .- The Havana Dairio de la Marina has intelligence from Vera Cruz to the 5th inst., and from the city of Mexico to the 27th ult.

Another attempt to overthrow the Comonfort government by a revolution was made in the capital on the 26th ult. The government was well aware of the preparations and the revolutionists were discomfeited. The government seized a small quantity of arms that the enemies had deposited in a small house in Ave Maria Lane.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river last evening was about at a stand having risen 41 inches altogether. The telegraph reports it on a stand at Cincinnati also. The rise at Cincinnati has been 36 inches.

The reliance is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day and the Clifton is the Carroliton packet. The steamers Ella and Raven are expected to arrive from below to-day. The Cincinnati Commercial, of yesterday,

The river has risen fully 12 inches since our last report, and the pilots say there will not be less than 30 inches to-day on the shoalest bars to Louisville. The rise is out of the Kanawha and Big Sandy. The Virginia Belle from the Kanawha Salines, Jas. Watt from Portsmouth, and Freighter arrived yesterday. The Virginia Belle left the Salines on Monday noon, on a 30-inch rise in the Kanawha, and falling. The A. W. The prospect at this time is verry flattering for a suffieient rise to admit of steamboat navigation We hope to be able to announce that important event before the close of the week.

From this we consider it probable that there will be another ri e at Pittsburg.

The Henry Lewis Sold .- Messrs. Eads & Nelson, of St. Louis, have sold the Henry Lewis to parties on the Missouri river, and Capt. Chas. Bell, the latter gentleman owning one-quarter of the boat and will take command.

Steamers Moses McLellon and Superior in the Mail Line .- We learn by a dispatch from Capt. Sherley, president of the Cincinnati Mail Company, that the steamers Moses McLellon and Superior, the Company's low-water packets, will resume their regular trips on Sunday next, on which day the McLellon will leave Louisville. The Superior is an entirely new boat, and the McLellon nearly so, this being her sec ond season. She is entirely refurnished and in complete running order.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock last night it com menced raining here.

The coroner held an inquest last night on settlement, which was adopted. at a house on Third street, on the body of a newborn colored child, which was found in a barrel. The discovery was made by the finding of the after-birth in the yard. The mother is a slave. A garter was tied around the neck of the child, and the jury rendered a verdict that "its death was caused by strangulation." It has not yet been ascertained who committed the deed. The mother is confined to her bed, and the impression is that she did not kill the child.

NEGRO INSURRECTION IN ARKANSAS -We learn from the Memphis papers that there is great excitement in Union county, Ark., on account of the discovery of a plot among the negroes to rise in rebellion on the 15th of this month. Fortunately the plot was discovered in time to prevent one of the most bloody massacres in the whole annals of insurrections. The plot was very extensive, and negroes who were taken up and made to confess, implicated

Some of the negros say the rising was to take place the day of the Precidential election. The men all being from home on that day, the plot was to murder the women and children first, and then attack the unarmed men at the polls. Several white men have been implicated, and notified to leave the county in a given time, or be hung. The letter states that on the Colorado the excitement is intense, and that several negroes have been hung. The plot seems to have been very extensive, reaching as far as Texas .- St. Louis Intel.

Bishop Onderdonk's Sentence Remitted .- Yessiting order other scene Remitted.— 183-terday, we learn that the Episcopal convention, sitting in this city, by a very decided majority, remitted the senience upon Bishop H. U On-derdonk, of this State, which suspended him from all clerical functions. This sentence was imposed twelve years ago, about the time his brother, Bishop Onderdonk, of New York, was of Aldermen allowing R. P. Lightburn $1190 44 in full on his contract for making sewers in Beargrass creek at First street, which was adopted. The members of the church and the public also are doubtless familiar with the history of these cases, and the feeling that the action of the convention produced in the church. An interval of twelve years has soften and the public also are doubtless familiar with the history of these cases, and the feeling that the action of the convention produced in the church. An interval of twelve years has soften and the public also are doubtless familiar with the history of these cases, and the feeling that the action of the convention produced in the church. tened the asperitios the dissentions then produced, and the remision of the sentence at this late period seems no more than an act of justice to an old servent of the church, who in his previous career had rendered it good service, and whose conduct since has been void of offense. whose conduct since has been void of ohense. The remission of his sentence will restore him to his ministerial functions, but, we presme, not to his Bishopric, which is now filled by Bishop Potter.— Phil. Ledger, 22d.

MARRIED,

SATURDAY EVENING. OCT. 25, 1856.

NARRATIVE OF THE EXPEDITION OF AN AMERICAN EQUADR IN TO THE CHINA SEAS AND JAPAN, performed in the Years 1852, 1853, and 1854, under the Command of Commodore M. C. Perry, United States Navy, by Order of the Government of the United States. Compiled from the Original Notes and Journals of Commodore Perry and his Officers, at his Request and under his Supervision, by Francis L. Hawks, D. D., LL. D. New York: D. Appleton & Co.-We are altogether charmed with the plan and execution of this work, and, indeed, with everything about it. It is singularly rich and fresh in material, correct and animated and graceful in style, tasteful and even elegant in form, and yet so inexpensive as to be within convenient reach of the great body of the people. In every respect, literary, scientific, political, and typographical, it reflects signal eredit not alone upon those immediately concerned, but upon the country in whose service it is produced. It is beyond all question the book of the season.

The introduction presents a rapid but comprehensive and masterly sketch of the state of our information respecting Japan previous to the sailing of the expedition. It is brimful of interest. Nothing could be more admirable or appropriate. The Narrative itself, though simply compiled by Dr. Hawks from the abundant and varied materials furnished by the manuscript journal and official correspondence of Commodore Perry, together with the several reports of the officers under his command and the public documents connected with the Expedition, is by no means a mere mechanical digest or summary of facts, but a living and breathing story, as fascinating as a romance while far more scrupulously exact than the exactest history. The strange wealth of material has been selected and arranged and fused into an organic whole with such consummate skill as to suggest the impression of a the public in his modest prefatory note that he has done nothing more than present the bare incidents of the Expedition in chronological

In doing this, however, he has insensibly thrown a charm over the naked procession of events that shows him to be a most accomplished and genial annalist. In his hands the bald details of official journals and reports assume the interest and almost the air of fiction without losing a single quality or shade of fact. We should like nothing better than to go off into the green and silent country and devour this book at delicious leisure as a poet devours the "visible pomp of nature," or as whilom we devoured the enchanting adventures of Robinson Crusoe or the scarcely more real ones of Mungo Park or Marco Polo. We can but think it a most fortunate thing for Commodore Perry, as well as for the country a large, that the rare materials he gathered in the seas of "fair Cathay" have been wrought into shape by a literary artist at once so modest, so faithful, and so skillful as Dr. Hawks. The work should be read by everybody, and it doubtless will be. It is sold by Morton & Griswold.

A correspondent of the National Intelligencer, writing from Independence, says that Brigham Young has of late been making some important prophecies-au.ong others, that if Utah is not admitted into the Union they will set up an independent government, and the in the life of which she had made choice, not Lord will protect them in it. They have been emboldened to this by the news which was received there from the States respecting the very much exaggerated, led them to believe that the dissolution of the Union was at hand.

WHO IS "P. S .- FORWARD?"-This appendix to most of Mr. Forney's election despatches has elicited some inquiry among the Democracy at the South. It is scarcely necessary to inform the faithful, we should think, that the mystical subscription translates, "Postscript send this news forward," that it may not be too late to gull the weak. The Savannah Republican is foster-pater to the following, upon the despatch announcing the result in Pennsyl.

A knot of Democrats were in confab over the gratifying intelligence it contained, when one of the company inquired, "Who is this Mr. P. S Forward? is he to be relied on?" Mr. P. S Forward? is he to be relied on?" Whereupon a Democrat present declared that he had known him for many years—that he congregation to vote for free speech, free Kanwas a good Democrat and a highly respectable citizen of Philadelphia!

A Missing Casket of Jewels .- The London police are on the alert to recover the casket of jewels recently stolen from the Baroness Anselme de Rothschild. The robbery was committed at the country house of the Baroness at Frank. fort sur le Main. The jewels were in a casket (made of sandal wood of Chinese manufacture) and brown leather jewel case-the value of the contents being estimated at 100,000 floring. For the most part the jewels, from their re-markable rarity and beauty, may be easily recognized. Among them were the following:

MONUMENT TO SIR WILLIAM WALLACE. The Scottish heart is just now agitated with a movement which strongly appeals to every patrictic impulse. It is proposed to erect a monument to the indomitable hero and lion-hearted champion of Caledonia's independence - Sir William Wallace. On the last anniversary of the battle of Bannockburn, a great meeting was held near Stirling, at which measures were adopted to secure the necessary funds. The summit of the Abbey Craig, an isolated crag nearly three hundred feet above the surrounding plain, through which several silvery streams pursue their winding course, and bordered by forests and graceful eminences, has been chosen as the suitable site for the monument, commanding, as it does, one of the most extensive and picturesque views in the kingdom. Within a radius of a few miles are included the gray walls of old Stirling Castle, the battlefields of Falkirk and Brannockburn, and the scene of the Knight of Ellerlie's greatest victory over the Southron-the battle-field of Stirling Bridge. For historic interest and beauty of aspect the scene selected for the monument is unsurpas-

A SINGULAR CASE -A very singular case, says the New York correspondent of the Springfield Republican, occurred at one of the Philadelphia hotels the other day. Mr. N. A. Wheeler of Bainbridge, N. Y., stopping at the Girard House, fell asleep on Wednesday night last, and has not since awoke, though every thing has been done that could be thought of by medical men to bring him to. It is the impression of his attending physician that there is an effusion of blood in the brain. Friday evening he appeared to be fast approaching a dissolu-

THE CONVENT OF POOR CLARES, BRUSSELS. The nuns never lie down, but sleep upright. I went up a narrow, corkscrew, staircase into their cells, and saw these extraordinary beds; they consist of a hard and all lost cylindrical mattress stuffed with straw, about three feet long, at right angles, to which is fixed an equally hard upright paillasse, to support the back. There is no pillow, neither are there sheets, and only one small thin blanket. pasin and ewer off water stood on the ground, and the sleeping habit hung on a peg behind the door. There was no other furni ure. A small window opened on the garden, and the honeysuckle which embowered it gave something of a cheerful aspect to the denuded little dormitory. They arise at half past 4, are only allowed five minutes to wash and dress, and go down to chapel, where they pray and meditate till haif past 5, when their first mass is said; this is always at a fixed hour, and is followed by one and sometimes two more.

After these they remain in chapel till half-past 11. Their first meal, which they call din ner, is at half-past 12, and consists entirely of herbs, vegetables, rice, eggs, &c. Butter, cheese, milk, and what they call lait battu they also eat, but not at maigre seasons. Their se-cond and last meal is at 7, and consists of dry bread and the biere du pays. The sisters do everything for themselves-washing, mending, sweeping, scouring, &c. The rule of the lay sisters is slightly less severe in every particular, but even this is ascetic enough to startle most secular persons. The sister who showed us the mysteries of the house was a very pleasant, amiable locking woman of about 35. She had a peculiarly caim, holy expression of countenance, and expressed herself perfectly happy about 15 years since.

The discipline they observe, she said, was bon pour l'ame et bon pour le corps aussi. It seems they are removed from house to house to Kansas d fliculties, which, coming as it did prevent too great an attachment to one locality. She and another lay sister were sent, a short time ago, on a mission to England, and this was another considerable grievance to her; but she said she kept her trouble to herself, and accepted it as one of the acts of submission to the will of her superior to which her rule bound her. The first night they arrived in London, when they put up at the hotel, they were shown into a room where the beds were, of course, horizontal. This was a difficulty which had not occurred to them, and they made up their minds to adopt the same position as the rest of the world; but no sooner had they tried it than they found it impossible to sleep; accordingly they relinquished the attempt, and took the mattress on the bedstead, placed it half upright against the wall, and had reason to be perfectly satisfied with their ingenious expedient.

> IMPORTANT TRIAL.—Congregation for Political Preaching Decided not to be a Religious Meeting .. - At a recent Methodist meeting in one of the towns in Eric county, in this State, the preacher undertook to instruct his hearers in their duty in the coming election. He denounced the present National Administration of the general government, as well as the Lemo sas, and Fremont. One of his hearers, an American, being somewhat excited, exclaimed: "Old fellow, I will bet you ten to five dollars there are more Fillmore men present than there are of the Negro Worshippers." fer was declined by the preacher, and the person making the offer was complained of, under the Statute, for disturbing a religious meeting. The facts being submitted to a jury, they decided that the meeting was not a religious, but a political meeting, and the Fillmore man was discharged.—Albany Atlas.

markable rarity and beauty, may be easily recognized. Among them were the following: four rows of large pearls, of which three rows were of ten to twelve grain pearls, and one row of tweaty to thirty grain pearls, and one row being worth 20,000 florins, and the whole from 40,000 to 50,000 florins; a large oriental onyx, surrounded with diamonds, valued at 5,000 florins; as serpent ring, with diamond, the interior engraved, "In the memory of Hannah de Rothschild;" four large pearl buttons, surrounded with diamonds; six bracelets of diamonds, smeralds, rubies, &c. Afull description of the stolen jewels is in the course of circulation to the highest bidder. It looked at first like a sort of "black list," and nothing was talked of but horsewhipping the impertinent scoundrels who asked for money which belonged to them. But it soon appeared that this publication was a matter of form consequent upon the dissolution of a partnership, all the unpaid bills being sold at auction. It created a great deal of astolia is the police offices throughout England. A very large reward has been offered for the appre dension of the thieves. Life in Paris .- The fashionable clubs of

NEW ZEALANDER'S ACCOUNT CFIHE MAN IN THE MOON.—
Professor Lee, in a note to his translation of the Travels of Ibs Datuta. says: "The following account of the man in the moon, I had from the mouth of a New Zealander: A man named Celano once happened to be thirsty; and coming near a well by moonlight, he intended to drink but a cloud coming over the meon prevented him. He then cursed the moon because it refused to give him its light; but upon this the moon came down and took him forcibly, together with the trecon which he had Inid hold, and there he is now seen, continued the Zealander, with the tree just as he was taken up. I would merely remark that it is by ne mears surprising that vulgar cradulity should be much the same all the world over;
but that it should arrive at almost precisely the same results is curious enough.

The most "curious" thing about this to us is the Professor's "remark." If "vulgar credulity" is "much the same all the world over," what could possibly be more natural than that "it should arrive at almost precisely the same results?" It would be curious if it didn't.

THE DISASTER TO THE CONNECTICUT -The Boston Chronicle gives the following interesting particulars concerning the disaster to the steamer Connecticut on Friday night, derived from an eve-witness:

The life-preservers, such as they were, were in the various cabins and state-rooms. The rush for them was awfully frantic. The panels of the state-room doors were stove in instantly, and one gentleman, in his frenzy, performed the same operation on one of the large and expensive mirrors in the saloon. Many of the life preservers were entirely worthless, not being able to hold air. To make up this fau t, one man was seen standing ready for a plunge with four of the leaky appendages attached to his

In the search for life preservers in the gentlemen's cabin, one gentleman was found asleep and roused, 'What shall I do?' said he. Not being able to find one, or his clothing, he rushed on deck with a sheet around him, and began to call out, 'For God's sake bring me

Another man was so terrified that the perspiration rolled from his face and saturated his clothing. A fellow-passenger offered him a glass of brandy, but he was too much paralyz-ed to swallow it. Numbers of stout young men were rushing about in an agony of despair; others were praying loudly.

A company of Irish emigrants were shrick-ing like wild animals. NEW VOTERS IN THE FIELD-The Way Citi zens are Made-Nearly Fifteen Thousand For-eigners Naturalized in this City.—During the past six weeks the Superior and Common Pleas courts have been engaged in the duty of increasing the number of citizens of the great republic. and in lessening, in the same proportion, the subjects of foreign princes, potentates, and powers The work commences about 10 o'clock and every morning, and continues without cessation till 3 or 4 in the afternoon, and between those hours the interior and exterior of the City Hall presents an unusually animated and lively apbearance. The eagerness with which the aspi ring foreigners crowd about the entrances of the two courts requires the presence of a con siderable force of policemen, who find it a difficult matter to repress their ardor and impatience, and to prevent them from rushing unin-vited and unbidden into the presence of the judges themselves. For six long weeks have the courts empowered with the authority for naturalization been besieged in this way, and during that time about fifteen thousand of our foreign-born population have been admitted to the privileges of citizenship. They come from Poughkeepsie and other places along the North river, and Long Island has contributed a large number, in addition to the dwelters in New York, who form the great majority of the applicants. A few—and they are very few apply of their own accord, but the great bulk are recruited by the Naturalization Committees of Tammany Hall and the Republican Central Club. The former have taken the Irish under their special care, while the Germans, whose tendencies are of a republican character, seem to have fallen to the charge of the latter. consideration, it is generally understood, of the votes which their candidates are expected to receive in return. Now, as each fee amounts to fifty cents, and as there have been about fifteen thousand naturalized, the whole amount paid must be over seven thousand dollars.

The greater part of this has been paid, it is said, by the Democratic committee, who have made five citizens to every three presented by the Republicans. In the first week or two the German applicants preponderated, but they have since been left in the minority by the constantly increasing majority of the Irish. The number naturalized in the Court of Common Pleas and the Superior Court ex-ceeds four hundred per day; during the last two days over three hundred applicants received their papers in our Court of Common Pleas alone.

The scenes that take place during the pro cess of naturalization are sometimes of a rath er amusing character. Some time ago the following occurrence took place in one of our courts: Among the crowd of applicants was an Irishman named O'Brien, who, in his own expressive words, was "wanting his papers." He was a short, thick-set man, and looked as if he could handle a shillelagh in true Hibernian His witness was a tall, raw-boned son of Erin, who, on being placed before the Judge, was interrogated and answered as follows:

Judge-What is your name, sir? Witness-Patrick O'Dennis, your Honor. Judge-Do you know O'Brien? Witness-Yes, sir.

Judge-How long has he been in this coun witness—A little over five years.

Judge-Is he a man of good moral charac Witness (quite bewildered)-Sure, your Honor, I don't know what moral character

Judge-Well, sir, I will talk more plainly to Does O'Brien stand fair before the community?

Witness (completely nonplussed)—By my sowl, I don't apprehend your meaning, your Judge (rather irritated) - I mean to ask you sir, if O'Brien, the person who wants to be a citizen, and for whom you are a witness, is a good man or not? Witness—Oh! why didn't you ax me that way before? To be sure, he is a good man. Sure, and I've seen him in ten fights during the last two years, and every time he licked his

The two courts which we have already mentioned will be employed in making citizens till the 25th of this month, as according to law their operations must be brought to a close ten days before the election. It is calculated that during the four days which yet remain there will be between four and five thousand added to the number of new ly made citizens, making a total of about twenty thousand since the first of September.

One of the London papers, alluding to the Merrimac, says:

The American steam frigate Merrimac iced a panic The aristocracy and flunkey-hood of England had no idea that the Republic could produce anything half so for al-dable as this truly magnificent vessel. The Merrimac is but one of a series which the American Government is now building, and, though only a frigate, she is admitted to be a match for any one of our ships of the line. There is not a navy in Europe which has a ressel that can compete with her.

THE SUGAR CROP.—The coming crop will doubtless be the shortest, in proportion to the extent of ground cultivated, that has occurred since 1835, when the yield was estimated at 30,000 hogsheads. There has been a gradual changing, for some years past, from the sugar culture to that of cotton, for we find by Mr. Champomiers's statement, that while in 1852 there were 1,481 sugar houses, in 1855 the number had been reduced to 1.299, showing a decrease in three years of 182. We also know that there has been a further material decrease this year, but the great falling off in the is referable to the damage from the remarkable continuance of cold and wet weather during the past winter, by which the rattoons or stub-bles were almost entirely destroyed, as well as much of the plant cane, before or after plant-ing. Under these circumstances some planters plowed up their fields and planted corn or coton, or both, and will have no cane. Others will perhaps make enough to replant for another crop, while some having light soil or well-drained lands, and having been favored by seasonable showers, may approach a fair average. These will have an excess of cane beyond their requirement for re-planting, but whether they will sell from their excess to those wanting plants, instead of making sugar, and to what extent, we have no means of estimating. At all events the crop must be a short oneless the shortest since 1843-as the extreme estimate named is 125,000 hogsheads, while some mark as low as 30,000 hogsheads, an amount altogether insufficient for the requirements of the West alone, and calling for a large import of foreign sugars. In accounting for the decline in the production for years past, it is probable that it may be in some dagree (possibly a very important one) attributable to the deterioration of the plant from the partial exhaustion of the peculiar qualities of the soil necessary for its sustenance. Should this be the case, it would be well for planters to supply the deficiency, by the application of the proper manure ... - Hunt's Magazine.

LATEST NEWS.

BAROMETER. Last night, 12 o'clock To-day, 12 o'clock. 29 53 29 57. RCBBERIES .- Our citizens cannot be too watchful. Within the last two weeks not less than six residences have been robbed of silverware and plate. The operations of the thieves seem to be confined mostly to the retired parts of the city. The last robberies that have come to our knowledge were at Dr. Murphy's and Mr. Thorne's residences on the corner of Broadway and Floyd streets. Dr. Murphy, who is absent, was robbed of a lot of silver spoons and preserves, and Mr. Thorne lost also a quantity of plate and his wallet, containing fifty-four dollars, which was taken from his coat pocket.

The "hop" at the Louisville Hotel last night, was attended by the elite and fashion of the city. The company was very large, the supper was splendid, and dancing was kept up till 4 o'clock. Altogether it was one of the most magnificent parties ever given in this

We neglected yesterday to thank Mr. Kirkpatrick, the chief of police, for a package of late New Orleans papers from the steamer St. Charles. Mr. K , as we have already mentioned, took a negro thief to Memphis who was arrested here some time ago.

Mr. Louis Schroeder, son of our fellowcitizen J. H. Schroeder, Esq., was a passenger in the steamship Hermann, which arrived at New York on Friday from Bremen. Young Schroeder has been traveling over the continent of Europe during the last three months, and in his letters which we have been permitted to see gives very graphic descriptions.
